HIGH SPOTS IN GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

In his inaugural address and message to the general assembly, Gov. Davis laid the legislative to:

Grant some rule in taxation for financial relief, but to preserve the principle of the Smith one-cent law for the protection of commerce that need no tax increase.

Establish a department to enforce prohibition in co-operation with federal and local officials.

Abolish unnecessary commissions and recognize departments for efficient service.

Include occupational diseases, as well as accidental injuries, in the provisions of the workmen's compensation law.

Continue Americanization work by the state, pledging his own efforts in making Ohio an infinitely place for foreigners and anarchists.

Help the Ohio State University to become the greatest state university in the country and give equal attention to the other educational institutions.

Avoid class legislation and measures for the benefit of special interests.

The new governor pledged his executive endeavor to:

Saving public funds without sacrificing quality of service.

Making an inquiry to determine the best highway policy, with a view to better marketing facilities and completion of most important roads first.

Encouragement of business and industry so as to relieve unemployment.

Greater protection against wildcat stock sales.

Stop the activities of professional legislative lobbyists.

Co-operate with the legislature to carry out the pledges of the Republican state platform.

EXCHANGE BANK ELECTION

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Exchange Bank was held Tuesday evening at the present directors were all re-elected as follows: Geo. W. Rife, Oliver Garbush, G. E. John, Howard Smith, M. J. Marshall and M. Smith. Following the election, the bank has enjoyed a prosperous year, in fact one of the best in the history of the institution. The annual bank statement appears in this issue.

Some time this spring the bank will move to the elegant new home, now nearing completion, one of the most modern banking institutions in this section of the state. No date can be set at this time for the completion of the building for occupancy but when this event does come, special arrangements will be made for an elaborate program of entertainment which will be open to the public.

SCHOOL BOARD ORGANIZES

The Board of Education met Monday evening for organization for the new year. J. W. Johnson, as president and W. J. Tarbox as vice president were re-elected. Andrew Jackson was re-elected clerk. Carl Smith of Springfield has been chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Mitchell.

QUACKLESS DUCK NO SWIMMER EITHER

JAMESTOWN POST OFFICE BOYS TO O'DAY

When Postmaster Harry Lionaroe resigned as postmaster in Jamestown politicians began to get busy. One of the first to seek the place was John Baughn, Gowdy-Marshall leader in that section. Baughn quietly secured the endorsement of the executive committee controlled body and soul by that faction, and then boasted to his friends that he had the post office job in his pocket and at the proper time would hand out the mail to Jamestown people. The unexpected happened and Lawson O'Day, former school teacher, received the appointment.

Gloom prevails in the Gowdy-Marshall camp. Some of that faction's supporters are quietly saying that applicants will be better off without Marshall's aid than with it. During the last campaign it was found out that Marshall was trying to defeat Sheriff Funderburg for his second term and that the Republican chairman was taking an active part for the Democratic nominee. Some important acts will in time come to light that will startle Republicans.

Jamestown people evidently do not take kindly to Baughn for on Sunday night he was buried in effigy in the public square, a pile of sand representing a grave with flowers and a headstone told the story.

Unless the civil service rule is lifted the successful candidate, must pass the examination, any one of the three, highest in grades to get the place. Meantime since O'Day has the temporary appointment, Baughn is telling his friends that he is not anxious for the P. M. job but wants something higher up. We suggest that Marshall endorse him for Burleson's job as postmaster general.

NO FRILLS FOR HARDING

President-elect Harding has sent word to headquarters in Washington, D. C. that he desires, no inaugural parade or ball on the Fourth of March when he takes over the reins of government. His reason for breaking a precedent that has been followed for years was the lavish use of money for such a demonstration. Washington business men had raised $200,000 and the government $50,000 for the event. President-elect Harding thinks this is no time for waste of money when the greatest emergency should be practiced.

Then "hang up his hat ready for work."

TWO IMPORTANT BILLS

Two bills already introduced in the legislature that will be of interest to every one are a soldier bonus bill calling for a bond issue of 25 million dollars for the service boys from this state. The boys would be paid on a basis of $10 a month for each month in the service. The state cannot issue more than $750,000 in bonds under the constitution without the people voting directly for it. The other bill if passed will provide for rural police. Some of the farm organizations urge such a measure, others oppose it owing to the cost which it is feared will be greater than any benefit that can be derived. Both bills will likely be fought by those who are opposed to any increase in taxes.

COLLINS MACHINE BURNS

M. W. Collins' automobile burned this side of Springfield on the pike where the traction line turns for South Charleston Wednesday afternoon. It was in charge of a mechanic from the Peters garage where Miss Anna Collins, who teaches in Springfield, had left it for repairs. The auto was being tested and the origin of the fire is not known. There was no insurance and the machine was a total loss.

AUDITOR RESIGNS

R. W. McKinney, county auditor of Clark county, has resigned to accept a position with an Ohio corporation. Mr. McKinney was active in pushing the real estate valuations up in that county and land owners will not regret his leaving public service. Most county auditors are personally opposed to a re-valuation at this time but when orders come from the State Tax Commission there is nothing else for them to do but obey the rules laid down in Columbus.

COUNTY CORN CHAMPION

James Hubbard of Xenia, has been named champion of Greene county in the Men's Ten Acre Corn Contest conducted by the county farm bureau in cooperation with the Ohio State University. His average yield when reduced to a moisture content of 20 per cent was 72.84 bushels per acre on 10 acres. Mr. Hubbard will be awarded a medal during Farmers' Week at the O. S. U. from January 21 to Feb. 4.

SAFE ENOUGH MAN

We notice by an exchange that Senator Warren G. Harding, in his mode of dress wears not only a belt but suspenders. We have always regarded him a safe man, one who took no chances, so our idea of him must be about correct.

JUDGE KYLE NAMES MISS CANBY STENOGRAPHER

Judge Kyle before resigning as judge on the Common Pleas bench named Miss Bliss Canby, who has been the efficient stenographer for a number of years, for another term of three years.

This office figured in the recent election last fall. A prominent educator connected with Wilberforce University campaigned for R. L. Gowdy, telling the voters in that school, who constitute a large part of the vote in Xenia township, that by the election of Mr. Gowdy, a relative of the educator had been promised the position of court stenographer.

Colored people were also influenced by another story that "Tack" Howard, a prominent Fourth Ward politician, in Xenia, was to be court bailiff, taking Frank Tarbox's place.

It remains to be seen whether Mr. Gowdy, when he assumes the office in February will remove Miss Canby and appoint the colored lady from Wilberforce, or allow her to hold over. The same is true of Mr. Tarbox.

The people of the entire county in respect of race, are keeping a close tab on the situation and awaiting to see what the judge-elect is going to do.

BUREAU CAMPAIGN IS IN PROGRESS

The membership campaign for the Greene County Farm Bureau which was launched Jan. 3 is exceeding the expectations of those in charge.

Already nearly 700 farmers have been signed up, a number which exceeds the membership last year and the county is not yet half completed.

The following townships have been partially or wholly canvassed: Xenia, Spring Valley, Sugar Creek, Beaver Creek, Bath and Miami, Cedarville, Caesar Creek and New Jasper will be worked this week and early next week we expect to move our headquarters to Jamestown and complete the campaign from there in the three Eastern townships.

Although it is early to predict the final outcome it seems certain at this time that the membership will exceed the quota of 1500.

Farmers are alive to the benefits already derived from the Farm Bureau in the defeat of Tax Classification, the saving of four hundred million dollars on freight rates and similar big things already accomplished by the American and State Bureaus.

Farm Bureau representatives are busy and farmers are for the first time adequately represented at Washington and Columbus this year.

LEHIGH NOISSINKOO ALLO

Springfield has home rule government. That is commission form of government where the city commissioners stage more trouble than has ever known in former years under the old federal form plan. A member of the city commission, J. D. Frock, laid a right upper cut on Dr. R. R. Richison, health officer of the city, at the Monday evening meeting when the member was called an ugly word of four letters. The commission has had much notoriety the past few years which proves that after all the kind of government has little to do with the success of municipal affairs. The government is never any better than what the people make it—through the election of men to public office.

70th anniversary fur clearance opens Thursday

The zero hour for furs

There are two kinds of merchants these days—those willing to accept conditions as they are and the others who still struggle against the overwhelming tide of normal prices.

In making our inventory, just completed, we have taken our loss, without trying to fool ourselves or our customers. The result is reflected in the amazing reductions mentioned in this advertisement and justifies supplying your present needs and even anticipating your future needs.

This 70 year old store "kept the faith" throughout the war period without a whisper of profiteering, and now in the readjustment is continuing to live up to its traditions of always selling dependable merchandise at absolutely fair prices.

In addition to our own fur stocks amounting to over $50,000 we are including almost $20,000 worth of fur garments bought last week at practically our own figures. There were so few buyers in the markets that this was possible.

These are all marked and in our cases and every gap left by our surprisingly large holiday business has now been filled. You can come expecting to find just what you want in a fur coat, dolman, cape, neckpiece, scarf or muff, and to see it marked with honest, plain figure prices you will gladly pay.

Of course the usual "Baneroff" guarantee of satisfaction in wear obtains with every purchase. Green tickets show our regular prices, and red the anniversary sale price.
